[redacted] Called on Congressman Michael Feighan (D., Ohio) relative to the private bill on behalf [redacted] Feighan was most pleasant and first said he would put in the bill. However, he had second thoughts when he considered the problems caused him by [redacted] and said he would discuss the matter with Mr. Jim Cline, Staff Director of the House Subcommittee on Immigration and Nationality, to determine who should put in the bill.

[redacted] Informed Joyce Judelson, in the office of Congressman Peter Rodino (D., N.J.), that [redacted] will be the after-dinner speaker whom they had requested. It was arranged that [redacted] will meet the Congressman at Rodino's office at 1830, 21 March.

While I was speaking with Miss Judelson the Congressman came in and informed me he is still having trouble with Mr. Feighan on the bill on behalf of Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty. He asked me to expedite the letter which he had requested from the Free Europe Committee and also suggested that [redacted] should get in touch with Mr. Feighan and express a sense of urgency in getting this bill passed. I have informed Mr. McCall of both of these requests.

[redacted] Spoke to Mr. William Ohlhausen, Research Assistant to the Senate Subcommittee on Administrative Practice and Procedure, concerning the report which has been requested on S. 924. I pointed out to Mr. Ohlhausen that the Agency does not issue press releases other than in the most extreme cases and would never originate a press release concerning an employee who might come within the purview of the proposed legislation. In the circumstances Mr. Ohlhausen agreed that it could be pointless for the Agency to submit a report and informed me that he would note on his records that the committee has received a response from the Agency.
